

The Aesthetic Upside of the Downturn: Art & Design in the Current Economy

Type of Event

Lecture/Panel Discussion

Date

03/05/10

Location

NEW YORK

Event Host

The Architects and Designers Building
150 East 58th Street
New York City

Event Time

11 am - 1:30 pm

The Aesthetic Upside of the Downturn: Art & Design in the Current Economy

The A&D Building, in conjunction with The Armory Show, hosts a Panel Discussion on how the art & design world is responding to the challenges of our economic climate.

Moderator: David Colman, design & style columnist, The New York Times

Panelists:

Nicholas Baume, director & chief curator, The Public Art Fund

Wendy Goodman, author and design editor, New York Magazine

Mayer Rus, design & culture editor, Los Angeles Times Magazine, fromruswithlove.com

A Luncheon will follow the panel discussion.

11am – Noon: Panel Discussion in the Hastings Tile & Bath showroom, 10th Floor

Noon – 1:30 pm: Luncheon in the Sub-Zero/Wolf showroom, 5th Floor

1:15 – 1:30 pm: Shuttle Service from the A&D Building Lobby to the Armory Show at Pier 92

RSVP: www.adbuilding.com/armory or 646.388.8953.

Reservations required: first come, first served.

Photo courtesy Hastings Tile & Bath.